What Wisconsin is Saying...

“Trauma is a word, not a sentence. Childhood trauma is real, and it is more prevalent than we might believe. In this engaging, relevant, and practical program, learn about the importance of implementing trauma-invested practices in the school setting. Incorporating research, building a common vocabulary, and exploring the impact of stress on brain development.

This conference truly hits home. Becoming trauma-invested is at the core of our daily interactions with our students, coworkers, and loved ones. I cannot wait to take this knowledge back to my district. Truly transforming.”

- Cory Sotala counselor at Tibbets Elementary School

In this continuing exploration of #TraumaInvested practice, Sauers and Hall share keen insights into the practices of empathy and attunement and present a communication strategy built to strengthen connections and understanding.

“A culture of safety and the new 3 R’s

Leadership in a #TraumaInvested setting

This program allows participants to deepen their learning and hone their collective focus. Participants will reflect on their personal missions as they analyze WHY they do what they do. Then, using powerful scenarios, teams will collaborate on a proven, replicable model for identifying student needs, building empathy, and generating strategies for supporting healthy adult and student growth.

What Wisconsin is Saying...

“Both Kristin and Pete were awesome to listen to and learn from.”

- Kyle Webber, School Counselor, Belleville Elementary School

This 3-day program is designed for teacher sub shortages, so all teachers can enjoy this powerful learning. Start the year off designing your school improvement plans to kick off a great year.

Learning Outcomes:

Participants will deepen their understanding of the value of fostering a safe, predictable, and consistent learning environment – one that is #TraumaInvested.

Participants will embrace the need to build self-awareness and tend to their self-care in order to be primed and ready to effectively support their students and children.

Participants will roll up their sleeves and build a strategic, realistic, intentional plan to become more Trauma Invested in their practices.

Who Should Attend?

Send a team! The program is appropriate for teachers, principals, student services directors, curriculum directors, superintendents, school counselors, social workers and psychologists.

“Learning about how to be a trauma invested teacher is one of the most important things you can do for ALL of your students! Teaching to the whole child and investing in their needs just makes sense if you want to help your students to become their best selves!”

-Dawn Wohling, teacher in Hustisford School District
